The Joys and Surprises
of Telling Your Life Story

This 30-minute video is designed to inspire older adults to tell their life stories—informally, in writing, on video or in public performance. Introduces the idea of working with a life story professional and offers guidelines for choosing one.

Written and produced by John A. Kunz, Director of the International Institute for Reminiscence and Life Review at the University of Wisconsin at Superior, in cooperation with the Association of Personal Historians. Funded by MetLife Foundation.
